What lesson did the Christmas Penguin learn about the true meaning of the holidays?

Write your own story.

Molly meets some interesting characters in her search for the Christmas Penguin. Who is another character she might meet during her journey? Choose a character from history, a book, or even a movie. Draw a picture of your character and Molly and then write a short story about what happens when they meet. Be sure to include what your character learns about themselves or about the true meaning of the holidays.
